He is also a newly elected At-Large Senator for the Student Senate for the California Community Colleges (SSCCC). Mayfield represent 2.8 million students throughout the State of California. Mayfield is also a student representative on the CalWORKS Advisory Committee as well as the Vice Chair of the Equity and Diversity Committee.

Mayfield is currently a proud, third year student at Los Angeles Trade Technical College and is pursuing a career in liberal arts. He is also a cancer survivor and is passionate about giving back and knowing his community. This is why he will always express to students the importance of volunteering and not taking life for granted. Mayfield believes that, “You are the creator of your own destiny.” He is responsible for bringing the expungement program to L.A. Trade-Tech College. He also played an important role in lowering the number of students required to start student clubs from fifteen to ten students. Mayfield will continue to be on the front line fighting for more student jobs for the low income, the performing arts, and school pride.
